

The Experiences of Being an Autistic Foster Care Giver Working with UK Social Services: "I thought there was something wrong with her..."

AUTHOR Megan Tanner

COLLECTION EDITED BY Damian Mellifont, Jennifer Smith-Merry

COLLECTION

Disability Studies

EDITION

1st edition

MARKET

College/higher education and Professional and scholarly

This course reading...

- Draws from the author's lived experience as a neuro-divergent foster carer.
- Identifies challenges and explores ways in which social workers and neuro-diverse foster carers can work together to provide the best support for children and teens in need.
- Is ideal reading for students and practitioners of Social Work and related courses, Disability
- Studies, Autism and Autistic studies, DEIB studies, Psychology, and social work policy makers

How can social workers and neuro-diverse foster carers collaborate to provide the best support for a child or teen in need?

Building strong relationships between social workers and neuro-diverse foster carers can be challenging. With professionals often having no experience working with Autistic adults, trust can be difficult to initiate, and problems can seem insurmountable. Drawing from her own lived experience as a neuro-divergent foster carer, Megan Tanner explains how barriers can be broken down to establish a successful partnership with one sole aim: to create the best possible outcome for a child or teen in need.

Working to remove pre-conceptions and judgement surrounding neuro-diverse foster carers, this book is ideal reading for students and practitioners of Social Work and related courses, Disability Studies, Autism and Autistic studies, DEIB studies, Psychology, and social work policy makers.

Megan Tanner is the Founder of Hear Their Roar charity and an NVR (Non-Violent Resistance) Parenting Consultant.

Available as part of the 2023 Library Collection of 40 titles: www.livedplacespublishing.com/librarians

www.livedplacespublishing.com/book/isbn/9781915734723